

“Our job is to love others without stopping to inquire whether or not they are worthy.”

Thomas Merton
Monk | Writer
(1915-1968)

We value the word inclusion because it speaks to our value of loving others and recognizing that all life is sacred and therefore worthy of respect and dignity. The test will come like this today. Someone will cross your path, after reading this reflection, and you will be encouraged to love them where they are, not where you think they should be.

Show kindness and love for where they are in their journey. Show kindness and grace for where life has met them. If you do all things with kindness and love, its impact will remain forever in the people receiving it.

With love, you can never go wrong.
