

“Great works are performed not by strength but by perseverance.”

Samuel Johnson
Writer
(1709-1784)

To continue to work in the face of difficulties is the meaning of perseverance. This has been a theme in all of our lives for the last couple of years. We have struggled through the adversities but we have kept doing the work to advance the common good.

Even on days when we feel tired, we still show up to do our work. Day in and day out. These are the moments that define us as a great organization. We show up for one another – our colleagues, our patients, our families. We lean on each other and push forward.

It is important to recognize all of the great things we have accomplished through perseverance. We have persevered through the challenges of life, and we will continue to persevere because we are committed to our mission of serving those who are most vulnerable.

We must take a moment to reflect on all the great works that have been done all throughout our divisions. You have given more of yourself than ever before, and it has made a big impact in our communities.

*How can you support a colleague today?
What are you most proud of this week?*
